A GOOD CITIZEN AND EARN- EST CHRISTIAN PASSES TO HIS REWARD.

On Saturday night last Dr. William Averill, after a long illness, aged 70 years.

Dr. Averill was born in Louisville and lived there until he was some ten or twelve years of age, when his parents moved to this county, and lived on a farm near Farmdale known as the "Paxton place." He was educated and graduated from the Kentucky Military Institute, when that institution was in its prime, under Col. R. T. P. Allen.

After his graduation he located in this city and entered the drug store of the late Dr. J. M. Mills. Several years later he, in conjunction with his life-long friend, Dr. Chas. D. Kearns (now of Covington), established a drug store in the building now occupied as a grocery by Mr. J. P. Noonan, on the corner of Main and Ann streets. Still later the firm was dissolved and Dr. Averill established the business house which still remains as a monument to his integrity and reliability as a man, a citizen and a professional pharmacist.

In early manhood he was married to Miss Jane Page, daughter of the late Mr. Thos. S. Page, a sister of Mrs. S. C. Bull and Misses Mary and Margaret Page, of this city.

Three children were born to them—Thos. P., Marvin D. and Miss Rebecca Averill. Some ten or twelve years since his wife died.

He was a devout and earnest Christian gentleman serving as a ruling elder in the Presbyterian church for many years. He was a writer of considerable ability, and a few years since, compiled and published a history of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, which is a valuable and authentic contribution to the history of Christianity in this community.

Quiet, unassuming, dignified and earnest, he was a model of the best and most desirable character of citizenship. His business motto was always to have the best and purest goods, carefully and scrupulously compounded, and physicians always relied upon their prescriptions being filled just as called for by him.

And now, at the end of a long and upright life, he passes to his reward, lamented by a whole community, who knew his worth and honored and revered him for his consistent living.

He is survived by his two sons and daughter and a large circle of relatives and friends, who mourn not as those without hope for their loved one had lived with reference to his responsibility to his Maker and Savior. He simply rested his tired head upon his Savior's bosom and "fell on sleep." He was one of the "sweetest singers of Israel," and his voice took on a sweeter and nobler strain as he joined "the choir invisible," around the "great white throne."

The funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. Dr. J. McC. Blagney, from the First Presbyterian Church, on Monday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, and was largely attended. The interment was in the family lot in our cemetery.

IS GOLF CATCHING

On to popular favor? It seems to be. A noticeable increase in sales of Painkiller comes from golf districts. The reason for this is clear, as Perry Davis' Painkiller is the oldest and best remedy extant for sprains, strains, bruises and soreness, all of which are of common occurrence, either in vigorous play or through accident. Everywhere the standard liniment and balm.

NEW COAL COMPANY.

The Norman Coal and Coke Company (composed of Maj. L. C. Norman, sr., L. C. Norman, jr., and C. D. Norman) has leased the old Staten property, on Holmes street, and will at once open a coal yard, where the product of the mines now owned by the company in Lee county will be sold.

TUESDAY MORNING'S BLAZE.

Just before 9 o'clock, on Tuesday morning, an alarm from box 16, called the boys to the residence of Mr. Wm. Cromwell, South Shelby street, where a blaze had started in the bath room.

It seems that Mrs. Cromwell was running an incubator, and by some means it caught fire and also set fire to the wainscoting of the room, damaging the whole to some extent.

Mrs. Cromwell was in her garden and saw the smoke pouring out from the window of the room and gave the alarm.

ECHOES FROM THE CON- CLAVE.

The following extracts, taken from letters received from Knights Templar who attended the annual convocation of the Grand Commandery in this city last week, show how much our visitors enjoyed themselves:

From Henderson—We all had a good time and look forward to coming back to Frankfort some happy day.

From Owensboro—I have not fully recovered from the effects of the strenuous life we led in Frankfort last week and I want to say that, as far as the members of the Owensboro Commandery are concerned, we are ready to vote for Frankfort as a permanent place to hold the annual convocation. Our boys all had a good time and came back intact.

From Paducah—Would you kindly advise me who was principally instrumental in securing such fine results in the entertainment of the Grand Commandery this week? It is our humble ambition to imitate the Grand Commandery to hold its annual convocation with us in 1906. I am therefore anxious to correspond with the members who took the most active part in your preparations and secure all points possible. Your Committee of Arrangements is certainly to be congratulated on the smoothness with which everything passed off.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED BY RAILROAD.

On Monday morning, while the rain and wind storm was raging, a C. & O. freight train, coming to this city, ran over and killed Mr. Robert Ueltschi, who lived at the old Leslie Collins place, two miles and a half west of this city on the L. & N. railroad.

It seems that Mr. Ueltschi threw a heavy overcoat over his head and attempted to cross the track immediately in front of the train in order to reach his barn in the hurry to attend to his cows, just as the storm broke loose. The train men, as soon as they discovered him on the track, did all they could to stop the train, but without avail, as it was a very heavy one, and it was close upon him when his danger was discovered.

Mr. Ueltschi was instantly killed and his body badly mangled.

Coroner Graham was at once notified and held an inquest developing the facts given above.

Mr. Ueltschi was a Swiss by birth, but had been farming in this county, for a number of years, very successfully. He had purchased the farm upon which he was residing and, like all farmers of his nationality, was improving it right along every year.

He was an honorable and upright citizen, scrupulous in all his dealings.

He leaves a wife and eight children—five sons and three daughters—to mourn his sudden and awful death.

The funeral services were conducted from the family residence on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Dr. J. McC. Blagney officiating, after which the remains were deposited in our cemetery.

A sad feature connected with his awful tragedy was the fact that Mr. Ueltschi's sister arrived in this country from Switzerland, at 3 o'clock, p. m., on the day of her brother's death.

HIGH IN THEIR PRAISE.

There is hardly a mail that does not bring a letter from some of the Knights Templar speaking of the perfectly splendid time they had here, and thanking those in charge for the delightful manner in which they were entertained from start to finish.

WHEN THE SAP RISES

Weak lungs should be careful. Coughs and colds are dangerous then. One Minute Cough Cure cures coughs and colds and gives strength to the lungs. Mrs. G. E. Fenner, of Marion, Ind., says, "I suffered with a cough until I run down in weight from 148 to 92 lbs. I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by J. W. Gayle.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

The Court of Appeals, on Tuesday, rendered a decision in the will suit of Henning, &c. v. Stevenson, &c., wherein was involved the distribution of the big estate of Mrs. Fannie Henning Speed. In the will Mrs. Speed left $250,000 to Mr. Stevenson, as trustee for the Methodist Episcopal Church, for the founding and support of a college in this State of that church.

The proponents of the will were upheld and the big sum awarded as directed in the will.

We see it stated, in some of our papers, that it is probable that Wesleyan College, at Winchester, would get the fund. This is an entire mistake, as Wesleyan College belongs to the Southern Methodist Church, while the bequest is to what is generally termed the Northern Methodist Church.

It is more likely that the college will be located at Barbourville, or, failing in that, at Louisville.

THANKS.

We are in receipt of a copy of the Lufkin Herald, published at Lufkin, Texas, sent to us by our old-time friend and playmate, Mr. Robt. L. Russell.

We notice in the columns of the paper that Mr. Russell was elected First Lieutenant of Camp Ellis Post, United Confederate Veterans. He was a brave and gallant soldier of the Lost Cause.

CAUGHT BIG FISH.

A gentleman by the name of Crane caught a catfish on his trot line, just below the city, on Wednesday, which weighed 50 pounds. It was a darning and had to be shot before it could be landed.

LADIES AND CHILDREN

Who can not stand the shocking strain of laxative syrups and cathartic pills are especially fond of Little Early Risers. All persons who find it necessary to take a liver medicine should try these easy to take, and compare the agreeably pleasant and strengthening effect with the nauseating and weakening conditions following the use of other remedies. Little Early Risers cure biliousness, constipation, sick headache, jaundice, malaria and liver troubles. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

BIG BUFFALO.

A young man caught a Buffalo perch, just above the St. Clair street bridge, on Saturday, on a trot line, which weighed 42 pounds. It was hard to land.

BIG SALE OF RED CEDAR SHINGLES.

Messrs. Hammond & Co. sold to the Commissioners of the Colored State Normal School, on Tuesday, 75,000 of their celebrated red cedar shingles. Pretty good sale.

NICE COMPLIMENT.

We are glad to know that Miss Genevieve Posey, daughter of Mr. W. H. Posey (who has been a pupil at the Conservatory of Music, in Cincinnati), met with an unusual honor at the recent closing exercises. She was selected as one of those who should take part in the commencement exercises. It is very unusual for a first year pupil to be so honored. She has a strong and beautiful voice. Frankfort girls, as well as Frankfort boys, get there every time.

NOT A SICK DAY SINCE.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility. This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C. writes. Only 50¢ at all druggists."

RESIGNED HIS POSITION.

Mr. Frank H. Johnson, who has been traveling Auditor for the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse Company, in this city, on Saturday, resigned his position and will probably remove with his family to his old home in Louisville. During their eight years' residence in this city Mr. Johnson and family have made very many friends who will regret to see them leave.

CLOSED DOWN FOR THE S- SON.

The Hermitage Distillery, of Messrs. W. A. Gaines & Co., closed down for the season on Saturday last. There are but few distilleries now in operation, and most, if not all, of them, will run out by the end of the month.

"TOUCHED."

Past Grand Commander B. J. Witt, of Henderson, was robbed of his pocket-book, containing a small sum of money, when he went to the depot to leave for home on Friday morning. There was a great crowd present and the light-fingered gentleman saw his chance and took it.

FOR SALE BY M. A. SELBERT, LEADING JEWELER

(Communicated.) IN MEMORY OF AUNT KATE.

A dutiful daughter, a loving sister, a faithful wife and an indulgent mother, Mrs. Kate Jenkins Crockett passed from this life early Thursday morning, May 19. Several months were spent on a bed of suffering, yet they were spent with patience.

She was born at Bridgeport 45 years ago. When but a girl she united with the Christian Church. In 1887 she was married to Col. Crockett, and ever since 1888, she has been postmistress of Bridgeport. Now she has gone, but "she is not dead but sleepeth." She was always at her place on Sunday, and the old church was filled with her clear voice. A kind word and smile to the little children was always given by Aunt Kate. They all will miss her, but not so much as Forest, only 13; Homer, only 11, and sweet little Rebecca, just 8. No more will mother's hand pass through your hair and pat your little cheeks. She can not come back to you, but you can go to her. God knows and we can only say "Thy will be done." Her hand, while in life, wrote her eulogy, and her life was better than any funeral sermon. We look on death as a sad thing, but to the one who leaves us, life is never real 'till that time. Then it is that the soul is with its own and can move around, not fettered by worldly sorrows and cares, but free, at last, to do only its Maker's bidding. Let us look on the death of Aunt Kate as the laying aside of all that is mortal, and remember that to her life is at last real.

CASE AFTER CASE.

Plenty More Proof Like This in Frankfort.

Scores of Frankfort people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

L. G. Choate, proprietor of the Frankfort Planing Mill, residing at 428 St. Clair St., says: "In almost constant misery during the day and restless and sleepless at night from the dull aching across the small of my back and through the kidneys expresses my condition for some years. I also suffered a great deal from headaches and spells of dizziness, and often when I arose I was almost blind for a time. There was a difficulty with the kidney secretions which very frequently were very annoying and distressing. I doctored and used lots of medicine, obtaining little or no benefit, until Doan's Kidney Pills were so persistently recommended to me by a friend that I went to J. W. Gayle's drug store and got a box. I took them as directed and must say they helped me a great deal. My back feels better and stronger. I can rest better at night and the trouble with the kidney secretions was much relieved. As the result of Doan's Kidney Pills my condition is so much improved that I feel like a new man."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

BIRTHS.

ANOTHER GOOD CITIZEN PASSES AWAY.

At 8:15 o'clock, on Thursday night, Mr. Samuel Todd, died at his old home at Lake Park. West Side, aged 47 years, of quick consumption.

Mr. Todd was the third son of the late Mr. Dabney and Mrs. Mary Ellen Todd and a grandson of the late Judge Samuel Todd, for whom he was named.

He was a quiet, earnest and capable gentleman, attending faithfully to all the duties of life.

He was, until recently, an employee of the K. D. & W. H. Co., but was forced to resign his position, on account of failing health in December last. Since then he has steadily declined until the end.

He was a faithful member of the First Baptist Church of this city, and when he faced eternity, his testimony to the truth of the religion of Jesus Christ was clear, firm and unshaken. Death had no terrors for him. His only regret was at leaving his loved ones to meet life's struggles without his assistance.

He leaves a young wife, one son, and a large family of brothers and sisters to mourn his untimely death.

BAD ACCIDENT.

While Mr. James Tipton was fishing, up Benson creek, on Thursday afternoon, a piece of rock became dislodged from a cliff above him and fell on his leg, cutting a gash about three inches long. Mr. Tipton was brought to town and Dr. J. S. Demaree attended to his injuries.

DECORATION DAY.

All Honor to the Gallant Dead.

"On fame's eternal camping ground,
Their silent tents are spread,
While glory guards, with solemn round,
The bivouac of the dead."

Monday next, May 30th, is the day set apart, both by law and by custom for decoration of the graves of our soldier dead all over this broad land.

While there will be no procession, with waving flags and beating drums, to march to the cemetery, yet faithful, loving hearts and hands will be there to place the victor's crown of sweet-scented flowers upon their lonely beds.

This is a custom that we hope shall last as long as loyalty to country and true bravery shall be characteristic of the American people.

But while we do this for those who wore the blue, we would not neglect or forget those equally brave who donned the gray and yielded their all for what they believed to be right. They are none of our home, flesh of our flesh—Americans all—the grandest, the bravest, the truest, that ever drew sword or shouldered a gun. Like the Spartans of old they know no such word as defeat when united. Let us then, one and all, Union and Confederate, place the flowers of affection upon their silent graves, and thus teach our children that the highest, grandest, truest thing on earth is to be a brave, upright and honest American citizen—ever ready to die for the right.

DECORATION DAY COMMITTEE.

The following ladies have been selected by A. G. Bacon Post, G. A. R., to have charge of the flowers with which to decorate the graves of the dead soldiers in our cemetery on Monday next, May 30. They are requested to meet at the Custom House at 10 o'clock, a. m., of that day:

Dryden, Mrs. James Sower, Mrs. Peter Aher, Mrs. I. T. West, Mrs. John M. Jameson, Miss Carrie Weitzel, Miss Amelia Weitzel, Mrs. R. K. McClure, Mrs. John N. Crutcher, Geo. A. Lewis, Mrs. R. L. Grinstead, Mrs. John H. Triplett, Mrs. Geo. F. Berry, Mrs. Hiram Berry, Mrs. Guy Barrett, Mrs. Chas. C. Furr, Mrs. J. H. Williamson, Miss Nellie Fellner, Mrs. Albert Umethun, Mrs. Grant L. GEO. A. LEWIS, Prop'r and Pub.

FRANKFORT, MAY 28, 1903

COMMUNICATED.

Editor Roundabout:

Will you give me space for a short communication? In Wednesday's issue of the Kentucky Journal I find the following:

The Kentucky Department of the Grand Army of the Republic will convene in this city to-day. A number of the aged visitors, bearing scars of the war between the States, are already here, and many others are expected to arrive to-day. To those who have heard those who are yet to arrive Frankfort extends a cordial welcome and a hearty greeting.

Old Father Time has thinned the ranks of both the Blue and the Gray, and fortunate and blessed are those who have been spared to see the full fruition of a united country and sectional lines gradually being wiped out. Forty years ago the G. A. R's. would have found strenuous objections and more a repulse—had they attempted to take Frankfort. To-day they may do so with welcome.

We are certainly obliged to the young editor for the gracious words of the above clipping, with the exception of the last two sentences. In them the editor certainly exhibits a sad lack of information.

Not only is he away off as to what would have happened in Frankfort forty years ago; but, to the contrary, this city was known and recognized as a center of G. A. R. influence and power—overwhelmingly enthusiastic for the Union cause. There were some five companies of white soldiers who enlisted from this county (besides an equal number of colored.)

The companies of Capt. A. G. Bacon, Capt. Dan Garrard, Capt. Jas. R. Page, Capt. R. Ward Macey, Capt. Robert B. Taylor, Capt. Thomas Mahoney, Capt. Frank A. Estep and Capt. Chas. Milward were composed almost entirely from men enlisted in this county, besides numerous others who went to Rousseau's brigade and other commands.

It is true there were as brave and gallant boys, who went out from us to follow their convictions and fight for the South, as ever drew sword, but they did not number more than three hundred men at the outside. We have no quarrel with them. They bared their breasts to the storm, leaving home, kindred, loved ones—all, die, if need be, for their convictions. No brave man, who were the blue ever intentionally wounds his brother who wore the gray. We are all Americans together, loving our country, its flag and its people.

Our glory and our honor is in a re-united country. God bless her. We advise our young friend to know the facts before trying a well rounded sentence to wind up his paragraph that don't fit with the facts.

Worry

Almost Unnerved Me—Heart Pains.

Short of Breath, Faint and Languid.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured Me.

"It has been five years since I was cured of heart trouble by Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine, and I am just as sound as a dollar in that organ today. For several years I had been suffering with my heart. Breathing had become short and difficult at times, short, sharp pains about the heart, sometimes accompanied with fluttering would make me feel faint and languid. The least excitement or mental worry would almost unnerve me. I felt that the trouble was growing worse all the time, and after trying many remedies prescribed by physicians without obtaining relief, I was induced to give your remedies a trial. I was relieved the second day, and after taking three or four bottles all symptoms were removed and have never showed signs of returning."—REV. GEO. W. KIRACOFF, Chincoteague, Va.

There are many symptoms of heart disease, which so closely resemble those of more common nervous disorders as to frequently mislead the attending physician. Often in cases of heart trouble the stomach, kidneys, liver or lungs become affected. Again the symptoms may be those of weakened nerves, as tired feeling, sleeplessness, timidity, the patient is easily excited and apt to worry without cause. If you have the least suspicion that your heart is weak study your symptoms and begin the use of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, the great heart and blood tonic, without a day's delay.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO BRIDGE.

Gas Pipe Leading to South Side Crushed and Broken in Two.

On Monday afternoon, about 3 o'clock, the tow boat John Mackey undertook to tow a derrier boat belonging to the U. S. Government down the river, and when it reached the St. Clair street bridge, the boom of the derrier had been carelessly left so high that it struck the main gas pipe which supplies the South Side, and which is suspended underneath the bridge, crushing and breaking it in two like an egg shell and pulling out two expansion joints and breaking a third. It then struck the floor of the bridge and lifted that structure about a foot, tearing the beams and planks loose. But for the fact that the boom broke about this time, there is no doubt but that the bridge itself would have been badly injured, if not totally destroyed.

It seems passing strange that the officers in charge of the boat did not stop it at once and back away, as soon as it was found that the boom was too high. On the contrary they recklessly went on their way regardless of the damage.

The crushing of the gas pipe released a vast volume of gas and forced the cutting off of the supply at the works until workmen could reach the cut off at the bridge. A force of men was at once put to work and the break repaired by 8 o'clock, p. m.

Many people on the South Side, who cook with gas stoves, had to resort to the bake shops for their supplies of bread, etc.

The work of repair was quickly done and the gas turned on about dark.

The loss of the gas company in gas amounted to $100 and in the repair of pipes, etc., about as much more. The damage to the bridge was considerable, and the only wonder is that it was not rendered unfit for use.

HAND CUT OFF.

A little lad, son of Mrs. Slusher, near Peaks' Mill, was cutting oats with a cutting box, when his hand was caught, drawn in and cut off. Surgical attention was rendered at once.

A MONKEY STORY.

A day or two ago, while Otis Evans was visiting at the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. George Hearn, near Jett Station, he was looking about over the place he discovered a dry well. He lifted the top off the place and out popped a live monkey. Otis and a dog or two soon ran the monkey down and captured it, and he still has the little creature. It is a mystery how the monkey came to be there, but it was there just the same and Otis still has it in captivity. The animal must have gotten away from some organ grinder and found a hiding place in the well.—Evening Call, Monday, May 23.

KENTUCKY DAY, JUNE 15th.

The Old Commonwealth Promises to Set a New Standard for World's Fair Days.

The Kentucky Commission for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition has decided to postpone Kentucky Day from June 3 to June 15, and active preparations to make the day one memorable in the history of the St. Louis World's Fair are now on. No printed invitations are to be sent into Kentucky. Every Kentuckian, from no matter what walk of life, is cordially invited to be present. The Kentucky Press Association will hold its annual meeting on Kentucky Day at the Kentucky Building on the Exposition grounds. This organization will meet first in Louisville on June 13, leaving that night for the World's Fair City, on a special train, furnished by the Henderson Route. On Tuesday, which is June 14, the editors will do a little sight seeing and in the afternoon be entertained at the Woman's Magazine Building outside the grounds. On that night they will see "The Pike."

While the programme for Kentucky Day is not complete, enough is known to announce that it will be full of interesting events. The Kentucky Building is to wear a gala attire and brass band music from the outside and a string orchestra from the inside will give to the "New Kentucky Home" an attractive tone. The editors will hold an informal session at 10 o'clock in the morning, followed by a tour of the grounds on automobiles and on the Intramural System, winding up at one o'clock with a luncheon probably at the east pavilion, which is being conducted by Mrs. Rborer, the famous cook-book woman. At two o'clock the regular Kentucky Day exercises will begin in Festival Hall, consisting of addresses by prominent Kentuckians and ex-Kentucky fans. After the ceremonies a reception on the big pipe organ will take place. At night in the Kentucky Building there will be a reception from 8 to 11 o'clock. The invited guests outside of Kentucky will include the Exposition's social list, the Kentucky Society, of St. Louis and the delegates to the National T. P. A. Convention. On Thursday morning the Kentucky Commission will hold a business session and on Thursday evening the Kentucky Society, of St. Louis will entertain in the Kentucky Building in honor of the Commission.

MONDAY'S STORM.

Early Monday morning the sultry atmosphere was broken up by a slight rain fall. Again, about 12 m., there was a very heavy wind and rain storm, during which quite a lot of hail fell. The clouds were very black and threatening, requiring the use of gas lights in the business houses. The wind was considerably alarmed, but no serious damage was done in the city, beyond the smashing of a few telephone wires and breaking limbs from a few trees.

Young Plants

Every farmer knows that some plants grow better than others. Soil may be the same and seed may seem the same but some plants are weak and others strong.

And that's the way with children. They are like young plants. Same food, same home, same care but some grow big and strong while others stay small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion offers an easy way out of the difficulty. Child weakness often means starvation, not because of lack of food, but because the food does not feed.

Scott's Emulsion really feeds and gives the child growing strength.

Whatever the cause of weakness and failure to grow—Scott's Emulsion seems to find it and set the matter right.

A FOUR LEAF CLOVER.

"Darling," said he, I found a four leaf clover;
Now I shall have three wishes for my own.
I wish you may accept me as your lover,
And all through life would love but me alone.
I wish that wealth and its attendant honors
Were ours to keep, and we would have no sorrows,
While health and happiness as gentle loving donors
Would guard our home through subsequent to-morrows."

Ah, me! he had his wishes each come true,
I loved him faithfully. Why should not I?
Great wealth and honors crowned him and I knew
That happiness had met and passed me by.
He married years ago a tender, loving woman;
"I hear he has bright children, girls and boys,
I often have a wish divinely human
To see these precious treasures—household joys."

And life runs on bright with a home and flowers,
I find sweet work to do and friends are kind to me,
I dwell not on the past, those by-gone hours
Are best forgotten, and should ever be.
I should not bring them now to light and vision
—Had not I chanced upon this clover leaf.
Which mute reminder proves what heights elysian
Our hopes arise, our happiness—how brief.

MRS. KATE JENKINS CROCKETT.

At her home in Bridgeport, on Thursday morning, May 15, 1904, this excellent Christian woman, passed away, in her forty-fifth year. She had been ill for a year or more past, but only the last few months was she confined to her house and bed. It was the old story of consumption and its fatal end.

Mrs. Crockett leaves a husband, Mr. Coleman H. Crockett, and three little children. There yet remain of her family two brothers, Messrs. Robert and John Jenkins, of Louisville, and a sister, Miss Emma Jenkins, of Bridgeport. Several years ago her sister, Mrs. Sue Towles, and at an earlier date, her father and mother, "joined the silent majority."

The writer recalls the happy days gone by when the Jenkins home circle was complete, and when at the Jenkins fireside, in Bridgeport, the center of old time hospitality, were gathered all the sweet spirits which made it an unceasing source of domestic joy. If the heavenly home is a brighter spot, as of course it is, then "what must it be to be there?"

Of that home circle "Miss Kate," as we called her, was one of the sweetest and best. A genuine Christian, happy in being useful and doing good, a favorite in all the community, "none knew her but to love her, none named her but to praise."

And what the girl was, that also was the woman, the wife, mother, neighbor and friend. In every relation of life she was the same true, devoted and unselfish person. Never very robust, always with energy beyond her strength, "ere many years had flown her health began to fail, and, spite of her brave struggle, the observing eye could see that the end could not be very far off. Sad to leave her husband and little children, and to bid farewell to kindred and friends she loved so well, yet ripe and ready for the great change, she bows submissive to the will of Him, "whom she was and whom she served." Truly the end was peace and triumph.

A large gathering of old friends filled the church, and by their presence spoke their respect and love, when the funeral service was held. Moist eyes, better than any words, told of the universal sympathy with the bereaved, and a large and mournful procession followed on to the beautiful Frankfort cemetery, where now sleep until the "resurrection of the just" the mortal remains of this worthy Christian woman.

What better comfort can we proffer to those who remain than the words of the sympathizing Christ: "Let not your heart be troubled: Ye believe in God, believe also in me."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

The following minute was presented to a meeting of the Session of the First Presbyterian Church, May 25th, 1904, and unanimously adopted and ordered that it be spread on the records, and a copy sent to the family and furnished the papers for publication:

Whereas, God, in His providence, has removed from the Church on earth to the Church in heaven our co-elder and brother beloved, Dr. W. H. Averill, who departed this life, May 21st, 1904, Session now puts upon record this expression of their appreciation of his character and services in the Church of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Dr. Averill was born in the city of Louisville on September 20th, 1834, in which city he lived until twelve years of age, when he removed with his parents to what was known as the "Paxton place," later "the Averill farm," in Frankfort, in 1853. He came to Frankfort and entered into business for himself, and from that time till his death, he continued to be a prominent figure in the business interests of our city.

He was a child of the covenant of God with his people. He was born into a Christian home; grew up in the atmosphere of a pious parentage; and, in early life, by faith and confession, gave himself to the service of his Lord and Master, in which he continued faithful until death. He united with the visible church in Frankfort, by becoming a member of the Presbyterian Church on confession of faith March 31st, 1857. He was elected a ruling elder of the Church and ordained to that office in 1868. In 1867 he was elected Clerk of Session, the duties of which office he discharged with most painstaking fidelity till his death.

In every position in life he was faithful, and adorned the profession of the gospel. As head of his family, he brought up his children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord; as a member of the community and man of business, he commanded the confidence and admiration of all; as a member of the Church, he was always in his place, both at the Sabbath and weekly services; with him duty to his God and His word were first and best; his business and social arrangements were made to give place to that; as an office bearer, he was devoted to the interests of the flock over which God had made him an overseer, always giving time, means, and earnest attention to all that concerned its welfare; as official Clerk of the Session, he gave such care and attention to all the details of the position, that the Session book of the First Church of Frankfort elicited commendation as a model record when received and approved by Presbytery. He left behind him a monument of his intelligent interest in the affairs of the Church in a "History of the First Presbyterian Church of Frankfort," which he recently completed and published, which, as literature, deserves high commendation as a specimen of good taste and clear diction and as a history of a section of the Church of which little had hitherto been known. It has been entered among the archives of the Historical Society of the Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia as a valuable contribution to the history of the Church at large.

Dr. Averill was deeply interested in, and intelligently informed concerning, all the denominational movements of the church with which he was connected. He received many expressions of the confidence of ecclesiastical courts in his wisdom and fidelity by his appointment to responsible positions on committees in Presbytery, Synod and the General Assembly, and always so acquitted himself as

Dr. Averill was no narrow bigot. His heart went out in catholic love for the church universal, of all names, and in all lands. He earnestly longed and prayed for closer fraternity and union between churches of kindred faiths. His charities were large and constant, and, like the sunshine, fell on the good and the evil, on the just and the unjust, and his left hand knew not what his right hand had done.

This Session would cherish, with devout gratitude to God, the memory of his long and useful life in the community and in the church; and, while deeply mourning our loss in his removal, would place on record our strong and abiding conviction that our loss is his eternal gain. We hereby tender our deepest sympathy to his bereaved family in their sore affliction and assure them that we, as well as they, and the whole Church, are bereaved together.

J. McCULLOUGH BLAYNEY, Moderator.

C. L. SAMUEL, Clerk.

DOESN'T RESPECT OLD AGE.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation, all yield to this perfect Pill. 25c at all druggists.

"DO IT TO-DAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'till to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, get regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

STRAWBERRY SUPPER.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Baptist Church will give a strawberry supper, in the New Chapel, of that church, on Tuesday evening, June 14.

Everybody invited to attend. You get your money's worth from these ladies every time. Don't forget the date.

PEA RIDGE.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lacedfield have taken rooms at Mrs. L. Edge's.

Miss Edith Edge has returned home after a delightful visit of three weeks to her sister, Mrs. Frank Stoops, in New Albany, Ind.

Mr. John Dennis is erecting a very pretty residence on his farm at Chouteau.

Little Miss Georgie Dennis is slowly, but we sincerely hope surely, returning to health again after a long and serious illness.

Miss Edith Edge was the guest of Miss Emma Dennis last Sunday evening.

Mr. Sam Lacedfield and wife and Mr. Chester Lacedfield and sister, Miss Jennie, were the guests of Mr. M. W. Spaulding, of Grafenberg, last Saturday evening.

Every one in this neighborhood was sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Kate Jenkins Crockett last week. She was very popular, having been postmistress at Bridgeport for several years. Our heart goes out in sympathy for the lonely little children and husband she has left behind, to mourn their irreparable loss.

Our neighborhood was shocked at the terrible and sudden death of Mr. Uetsch, of the Benson Valley. He lately bought the Leslie Collins farm, and was much liked and respected. He was a Swiss, and a neighbor tells us he heard him say that when that of Miss Barber, and in the same dreadful manner, we are led to wonder can not something be done to make life more secure along this dreaded plike and railway.

The late frost, so dreaded by those who had orchards, never came, and the prospect for fruit is excellent. Our peach trees are so loaded that when the sun shines on them, they are covered with fruit in bloom. Apples, pears and plums are also abundant, and we can hardly wait for them to ripen.

Rain is much needed in this district.

Mrs. L. Edge has returned home after a short visit with her husband, to see their son and other friends, in Lexington.

We have been asked several times whether Miss Lucy Pattle, who has made such an efficient and popular county school superintendent, was again a candidate for re-election, and were sorry we could not give the information. "Will come one answer this question: 'Is Miss Pattle a candidate for re-election?'"

Every farmer having a corn field having a hard time with crows taking up their newly-planted corn. They say they never saw so many and such industrious crows. We believe they used the word mischievous and other names, but very endeavoring terms as they replanted.

We are sorry to hear that Miss Sarah Suduth is quite ill at her residence in the Benson Valley. We hope she will soon be well.

GOOD SPIRITS.
Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass State could not remedy a bad liver or the hundred-and-one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach and a certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over thirty-five years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size, 5c; regular bottles, 75c. At all druggists.

(CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectation in the morning is made by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those that use German Syrup. Trial bottle, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

THE PERIL OF THE ICEBERGS

Thrilling and often disastrous experiences befall those who go down to the sea in ships in the North Atlantic because of encounters with icebergs. Concerning these difficulties and dangers which beset the voyager on every side on account of "The Peril of the Icebergs," P. T. McGrath writes the opening article in the June McClure's. Every winter season brings a train of mishaps and disasters to the Atlantic shipping, due to these wandering terrors of the ocean. No other great trade route suffers from this peril, the most deadly the mariner has to reckon with. Regularly vessels vanish from the sea and leave never a trace how destruction overtook them, but the experienced mariner knows too well their fate, sunk by collision with an iceberg.

Human science and ingenuity have never devised any contrivance to detect or thwart these silent foes, and the great floating crystal islands have wrought more ruin than any other obstruction that threatens ocean traffic.

The icebergs are fragments from the glaciers of Greenland, forced out of the Arctic seas by thousands every summer, and are carried south by the currents until they are dissolved in the warmer waters and nearer the sun. Impressive and beautiful, though they are, no object is more dreaded by the sailor. Mr. McGrath vividly describes many adventures with the icebergs, many of them moving tales of tragedy and suffering. The fate of ships which have met these floating destroyers is shown in many instances of disaster, and death. Some have escaped wounded. Others have left none to tell the story of their end. Some of Mr. McGrath's stories read like romance and the whole narrative is of the keenest interest. Admirable illustrations are furnished by M. J. Burns.

Mr. McGrath lives in Newfoundland and has studied his subject at first hand for years. In order to more perfectly illustrate the article, Mr. Burns went to Newfoundland and saw the scenes he so beautifully reproduces.

GIVEN UP HIS PASTORATE.

Rev. Edward H. Bull, who has been pastor of the Presbyterian Church, at Grant City, Missouri, has resigned his position, and, with his family, is with his parents, Mr. S. C. Bull and wife, on Washington street. Owing to his father's physical condition, he will probably remain some time.

A RUNAWAY BICYCLE.

Terminated with an ugly cut on the leg of J. B. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. It developed a stubborn ulcer unyielding to doctors and remedies for four years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured. It's just as good for Burns, Scalds, Skin Eruptions and Piles. 25c at all druggists.

THE SENTINEL PINE.

"How would you like it if we change from a drive to a walk this morning?" said Carlos, to me as I sat waiting in the shade of the honey-suckle, on the low stone steps. Of course, I answered in the affirmative, and we walked slowly down the grass-grown brick pavement out towards a stone wall enclosure where were sleeping the last of a noble race; above our heads a beautiful pine tree stood in silent majesty, its softly sighing branches whispering of devotion to a duty devolving upon me as the last leaf on the ancestral tree and I dared not shrink from such a task though self-imposed and sad as were the graves clustered at my feet.

The point of land where we stood was the highest in all the neighboring country. The lone pine tree a sentinel from many points of view.

Before me was a vision of beauty as fair as eye ever looked upon. The Elkhorn winding its silver chain about the feet of the verdant cliffs crowned with cedar and the velvet moss covering up the scars of the changing years. The lowlands and far distant meadows looked brown and serene in the light of the autumn morning, but the monuments of fodder looked interesting from a practical standpoint.

Flocks of crows were flying low. Carlos told me they were "politicking," cawing to shadows flitting about in the sunshine. The blue of sky was emblematic of the light he'd be seen on land or sea, and the wind-blew softly as if to speak of the years of my lost childhood the old story of another Gethsemane, which even to-day came before me a crucifixion bitter as was death itself to a sensitive, lonely heart.

"Tell me, Carlos, about the new owner of Grenelle." Do you know him? Is he old in years? I wonder if hate is necessary to remembrance, or if, in the garden of memory, only the blossoms of a mighty love survive the test of friendship.

"I can not say, my lady," said Carlos, smiling.

"Everything one does in this life has a reaction, an echo, which either applauds or condemns the deed, and is ever afterward a perpetual reminder of nobility or baseness."

"Yes, I know Eastwood. He is an honest, honorable gentleman. He is serious and gray-haired, but not over sixty. No, memory has nothing to do with the survival of the fittest and it is always my misfortune—not your fault—to be unworthy to merit friendship. Let me disabuse your mind of the thought that he was mercenary and also to apologize for bringing you among these old graves. If you will walk with me to the brow of yonder cliff, I will tell you the story of 'Grenelle' and the 'Sentinel Pine.'"

"Once upon a time there lived in the valley of the Elkhorn a mighty hunter, brave and fearless to the danger edge, but uncouth and rugged as the rocks lying far below us. His one thought was of and for his baby girl—little Nell he called her—blue of eyes, slender and graceful as were the deer that leaped from cliff to cliff above his door. He loved her with idolatrous affection, and she looked up to her tall, brave father with the clinging tenderness of filial devotion. On this particular day, in the history of these lives, a separation took place and Eastwood compelled by hunger, left the child alone that he might kill a deer. There were Indians in Kentucky in those times, and the tribe of the 'Red Wolf' were on the war-path. The little cabin, nestling like the nest of the brown thrush at the foot of the cliffs felt too dark and lonely for the child of the pale-face hunter, and she left its shelter to pluck the wild flowers growing up here in the cool moss and shadows. Perhaps the Indians mistook her for a deer, but be this as it may there was a sudden whir of swift arrows, a sobbing cry, a white-face still and cold in the midst of wild blossoms.

Where the little life went out into the sunshine of God, that pine tree grew, and strange to say there are no other trees like it in all this neighborhood.

Eastwood, broken in heart at the loss of his child, swore vengeance on the Indians, becoming the well-known scout of 'Boonesborough fame.' He has never married, and has built over and beautified 'Grenelle' your old home, beyond recognition. But the place is haunted I hear with beings beside old memories, and it would not be worth your while to go to law over the title.

"Marry me, Helen, I love you! 'I, too, am lonely!' I shook my head.

"No Carlos, dear." By taking revenge a man is but even with his enemy, but in passing over he is superior, and if a proud man makes me keep my distance, the comfort is that he keeps his at the same time.

"Remember that, to a man, love-making is the prologue to marriage, but to a woman, marriage is the epilogue to making love, and she has been taught that there is really no such thing as forgetfulness just as there is no such thing as death."

As we walked home my lover whispered and I heard him say: 'I'll wait then, because no rock so hard but that a little wave may beat admission in a thousand years.'

And if poverty is the real test of civility and the touch-stone of friendship, I may, after all these years marry Carlos and enter into the inheritance of my forefathers with the Sentinel Pine.
